Book I of the Lands Between Saga, THE TARNISHED, the first in a trilogy! A young warrior, Altaria, finds herself alone in the wilderness. Fleeing from her oppressive master, she suddenly meets a young girl, Erina, who claims to be a messenger of the Elden King, and the two are mysteriously bound by fate. Everything that is ancient, that is, everything that has existed for the world, was created by the Gods, and everything that is formed by the Gods is just as ancient as the Gods themselves. The Gods' great summoning ceremony lies in the depths of the world, and it is within that deep and ancient space that you and I will be born." "The future and the past are contained in the same moment. Within the Center is where we live. The universe is made in the Center, a place without beginning or end. Neither human memories nor human time exist there, and if the very concept of time does not exist there, then why do we even call them human?" "The world is full of mysteries, and the answers to them lie within the abandoned temple at the
