Royal Blue Royal Blue (foaled February 13, 2003 in Kentucky) is an American Thoroughbred racehorse who competed successfully as a breeding stallion. As a two-year-old in 2004, he won four of six starts, including the Grade I, Grade II, and Grade III Centennial Handicap. His record earned him a spot on the Kentucky Derby board and he was the betting favorite. At the start of the race, however, he was surrounded by traffic and bumped into the rail, injuring himself. Despite never recovering from the incident, he won the race and was given the second best odds at the post-race awards ceremony. He finished second in both the Breeders' Cup Classic and the Haskell Invitational Handicap. He also finished third in the Remsen Stakes, a Grade III race at Belmont Park, where he was bumped at the start. His 2004 campaign ended with a fifth-place finish in the Breeders' Cup Turf. In 2005, Royal Blue had a difficult start. He was entered in only one grade I race, the Grade II Tampa Bay Derby, and he finished in last place. Despite being a Grade I winner, he was a polarizing horse, both among racing fans and in the media. On the track, he had won his first five starts of 2005 by an aggregate of lengths, yet he had been dominant only twice, in the Grade II Tampa Bay Derby and the Grade II Matriarch Handicap at Aqueduct Racetrack. On November 3, Royal Blue broke a bone in his left
