The parallel ropes will be suspended at a height of twelve metres with a diameter of 20 centimetres, while the two walkways will be at a height of four metres and six metres high. After the second U-turn the parallel ropes will be connected to a central pole at a height of twelve metres. In order to execute the course, each ropes and walkway course will be equipped with a double pulley and four posts. The ropes course will be divided into three different levels. The first, which will be accessible to adults and parents on their own. The second, which will serve children aged seven to twelve, and which will be only accessible to children accompanied by a responsible adult. Lastly the third, with a medium level of difficulty, will be for teenagers and adults. During the installation, between September and October, nine teams, consisting of 30 people each, will participate in the construction of the course. They will be divided into three different categories. The permanent workers will be made up of about 30% of them, while the remainder will be project workers hired for that purpose. The first construction phase will take place during the weekdays. The second phase will begin on the weekends, and will go on until the end of October.
